LUKOIL ECOLOGISTS GIVE LESSONS ON BIODIVERSITY AND ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION ON EARTH DAY

On the Earth Day ecologists of LUKOIL Neftohim Burgas JSC (a member of the LUKOIL Group) became teachers of the “Man and Nature” school subjects.

Animal and plant species characteristic for Burgas region, some extinct or endangered representatives of the Bulgarian and the world's flora and fauna were presented to the fourth-graders of Vasil Aprilov Primary school, Mihail Lakatnik Primary School in Burgas and Hristo Botev Primary School in Dolno Ezerovo. The students learned about species, which live only in Bulgaria, while some of them can be seen only in the area around Burgas. With great interest, the children discussed the influence of man on nature and the ways we can protect the environment. They formulated the main message of the lessons: the responsible attitude of modern man for protection of the fragile natural balance is of crucial importance in the industrial times we live in.
